

Mr. Andrew Brooks is the Environmental Program Manager for the Eastern Region Airports Division of the FAA. Mr. Brooks has over 22 years of experience conducting environmental reviews and noise studies for the FAA. He is a national resource for the National Environmental Policy Act, noise, tribal, and environmental justice issues for the agency, has authored or supported development national policy, and is the primary resource for complex airport and airspace projects across the region.