

Adam Minichelli Bio

Mr. Minichelli is a project manager and civil engineer with over 15 years of experience in the planning, design, and construction of projects to improve water, wastewater, and stormwater. His experience includes site design, water distribution system investigations, stormwater treatment and storage, and wastewater treatment process encompassing, preliminary treatment, primary treatment, sludge handling, residuals handling, process aeration, chemical systems, and utility design as well as construction sequencing, construction support, and project management. Mr. Minichelli has served on the Board of the American Water Resources Association (AWRA) Philadelphia Metropolitan Area Section and moderates the Issues of Emerging Concern session at the New Jersey Water Environment Association (NJWEA) Annual Conference.